

Podcast #1: “Ushering in a New Era: Artificial Intelligence vs Privacy Legislation”

Speaker: Chantal Bernier

Topic: What are the privacy implications and considerations of AI? How do you strike a balance between the ethical use of AI and an encroachment on privacy? Discover the role accountants play in the world of AI and privacy legislation.

Podcast #2: “Cybersecurity: Threats and Compliance Issues You Can’t Afford to Ignore”

Speaker: Imran Ahmad

Topic: Do you know the state of cybersecurity in Canada today? And what actions can your organization take to proactively detect and prevent attacks? Review current trends in cybersecurity and how to respond effectively to a breach.

Podcast #3: “Taxation of Cryptocurrencies”

Speakers: John Oakey and Michael Brown

Topic: How should cryptocurrency transactions be treated under Canadian tax law? Learn how cryptocurrency mining companies operate and get a closer look at how intentions and business models may affect their tax considerations.

Podcast #4: “Public Accounting 2.0: Your Practice in the Cloud”

Speakers: Jules Hawkins and Allison Hawkins

Topic: Are you interested in updating your practice and transforming client relationships? Hear from two practitioners as they discuss their experiences with the cloud and reveal the wide range of options available to CPAs in the modern age of public practice.

Podcast #5: “Followership: Why Leadership is Not Enough”

Speakers: Marc Hurwitz and Samantha Hurwitz

Topic: It can be easy to get derailed and frustrated at work when good leadership opportunities are lacking. Explore the concept of followership, and why it is equally as important as leadership in a professional context.

Podcast #6: “Leadership 2.0: How to Future-Proof Your Organization”

Speaker: Tom Hood

Topic: Many older styles of leadership do not work as well now as they did in the past. Discover the key differences between generational cohorts and learn more about the impact of those demographics on contemporary leadership strategy, style and communication.